SOLID DAFFODILS

Daffodils are synonymous with springtime as the days heat up. Available in myriad shapes and sizes, including dainty dwarfs and contrasting color combinations on the same flower, daffodils play well with many other spring blooms. Fragrance, deer resistance, and naturalizing habits are this flower's power, which keep them coming back year after year.

After your daffodils are done blooming,
leave the foliage to die back naturally.
This may take a month or two, but will ensure the bulbs have adequate time to build up energy for next year's blooms.

ALLIUMS

Alliums are very versatile and unique bulbs that are part of the onion family. The ornamental flowers range in size from giants to miniatures in various colors including purple, pink, blue, and white. They are deer resistant, fragrant, naturalizing, and are great as cut flowers.

CROCUS

Crocus is an ancient flower known as early as 371 BC. It houses one of the most expensive spices, saffron, from c. sativus, an autumn-flowering variety. It is one of the earliest flowers to bloom in spring. The flower closes at night and under overcast weather conditions. This bulb comes in several colors including white, mauve, lilac, lavender, yellow, and striped.

Flower bulbs grow well in the garden, but will also thrive in pots—a perfect way to expand the landscape to surrounding hardscape areas. It's important for the pot to be deep and have adequate drainage. The pot should be at least three times the height of the flower bulb.

FALL PLANTING TIPS

Spring bulbs must be planted in the fall to develop a good root system and to satisfy the bulb's cold requirement for spring flowering. The warmer the climate, the later you must plant the bulbs (as long as they are planted before the first frost). In general, it's best to plant when the soil temperature is below 60° F. For very warm climates, we provide the bulbs with a pre-cooling of 8-12 weeks.

Bulbs in Planters/Pots

Plant bulbs in layers to prolong the flowering period. Bulbs that flower early can be planted on top of the later-flowering bulbs.

Bulbs in Lawns and Grass Strips

Daffodils, Crocus, and Scilla Siberica are very suitable for planting under grass. The earliest flowering bulb types are the best choice.

Mass Plantings in Beds and Borders

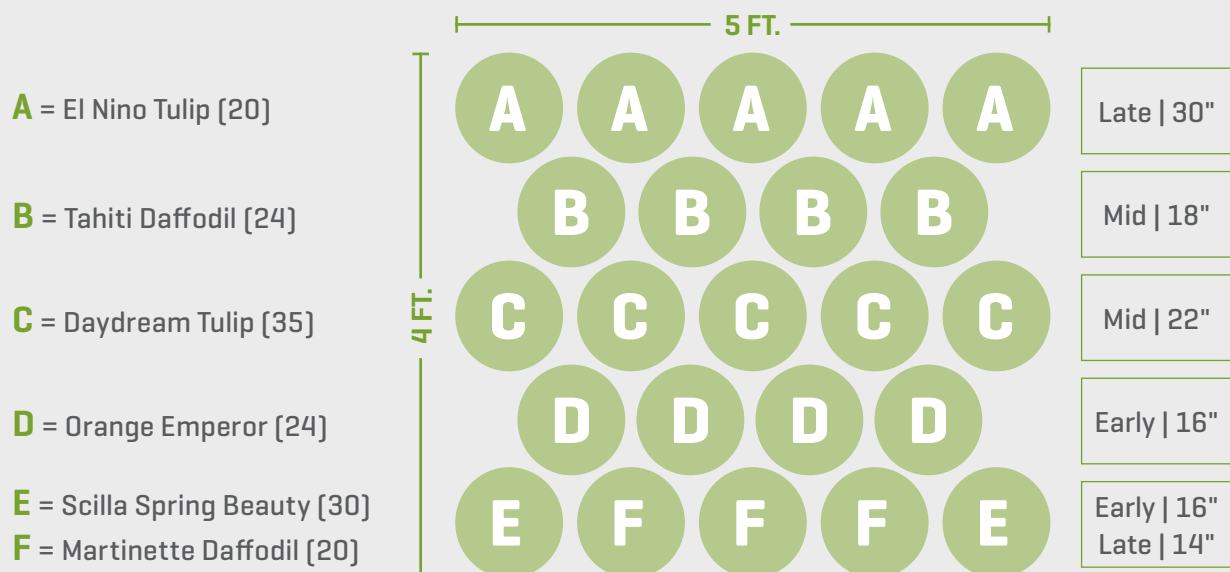

Add spring-flowering bulbs to perennial and rose borders for a burst of color in early spring.

Naturalizing Bulbs

Daffodils, Crocus, Muscari, Scilla, and most other small bulbs are perennial and can be left in the soil to return for many years.

For season-long interest, consider packing a punch with this layered design.

Planting Chart and Seasonal Guide

Plant bulbs at a depth that is double their height. Place large bulbs with the nose facing upward in the planting hole. Small bulbs can be scattered. The distance between the bulbs depends on the visual effect you are looking for.

Bulb Type	Planting Depth	Distance	# Per Sq. Ft.	Layering
Hyacinths	6-8"	6"	5	Top
Tulip & Camassia	6-8"	4"	5-6	Middle
Daffodils, Large	6"	4"	4	Bottom
Daffodils, Miniature	6"	4"	6	Middle
Crocus	2-4"	2"	12	Top
Scilla & Muscari	2-4"	2"	15	Top
Allium, Large & Fritillaria	8"	6-8"	2	Bottom
Allium, Small	6-8"	6"	15	Middle

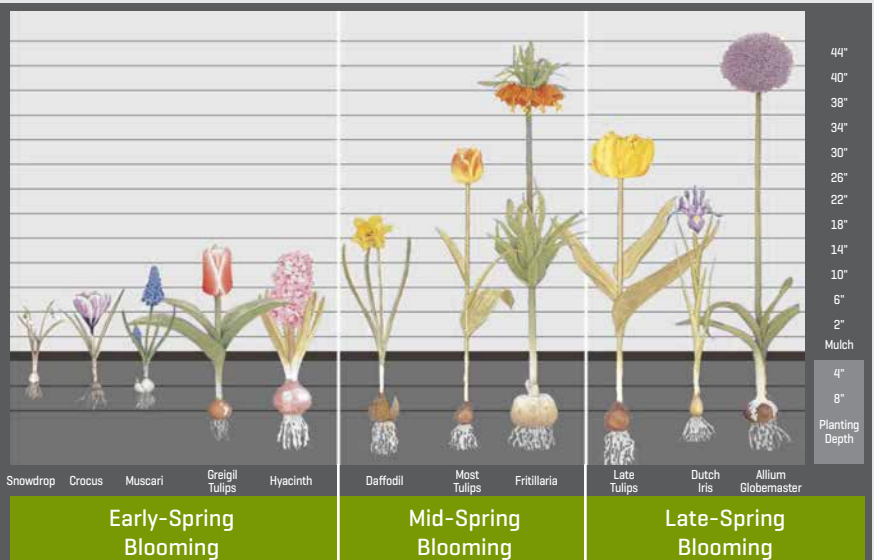

Amaryllis and Ziva Paperwhites are used as indoor flowering bulbs for winter color making them great for holiday gifts.
